From the year of its founding, Economia&Management has represented a compass for managers, professors, students, and professionals interested in the challenges and questions of the Italian and international economic-managerial scene. To celebrate an experience that has lasted 30 years, this supplement to issue 4/2020 of the magazine retraces some of the essential moments of this history.

The number opens with a contribution by Giuseppe Soda, the Dean of the SDA Bocconi School of Management, who reviews the magazine’s close link with the business school and the changes that have taken place over the years in terms of cultural context, approach to training and research, and challenges.

In the second central section, we republish four articles by Stefano Basaglia and Zenia Simonella from issues 1/2019, 2/2019, 3/2019, and 1/2020 of Economia&Management. These articles trace the evolution of the magazine in the Italian socio-cultural context.

The third section is dedicated to the magazine's editors-in-chief: from the founder Claudio Dematté, reprinting an editorial of his from 1994, to Vincenzo Perrone and Guido Corbetta, interviewed specifically for this special issue.

At the end is the conclusion by the current editor-in-chief of Economia&Management, Fabrizio Perretti, who outlines the scenarios and challenges to be faced in the near future.
